PROFILE

I'm a creative and driven media professional with hands-on experience in radio, broadcast journalism, live performance, and content creation. I'm comfortable working solo or as part of a team, especially in fast-paced, media-focused environments. From national TV to local radio, I bring energy, flexibility, and a real love for storytelling across different platforms. I'm known for being a strong communicator who takes initiative and jumps at new opportunities in the creative world. I currently work as a Barista at M&S Cafe; this helps me to earn some money to pay for the things I wish to pursue, such as acting classes and my car that gets me from A to B in everything below.
